POINCARE SILENT
ON POSSIBLE MOVE

Premier Demands Teuton
Submit New Suggestions
In Writing

(By United Press Leased Wire)
PARIS, Dec. 15.—A first step towards opening direct Franco-German conferences regarding the Ruhr and Rhineland situations was taken today when a German emissary, Herr Von Hoesch, visited
Premier Poincare at 9:30 a. m.

Von Hoesch requested that negotiations to facilitate accords reached regarding resumption of industry in the Ruhr be opened at once.

Poincare, who received the German somewhat hesitatingly and with many reservations, did not immediately reply. The French premier requested Von Hoesch to submit his suggestions in writing. When this is done Poincare will reply in writing.

Von Hoesch asked Poincare if he were not ready to negotiate concerning all outstanding Franco-German questions.

The premier replied France certainly did not intend to negotiate regarding Germany's reparations debt to this country since that was a matter that came within the jurisdiction of the reparations commission.

Woolwine Recovering
From Latest Relapse

PARIS, Dec. 15.—Thomas Lee Woolwine, Los Angeles lawyer and former district attorney, who is fighting for his life here against an infection of the liver, recovered this afternoon from a relapse suffered earlier in the day.

A new transfusion of blood will be undertaken tonight or tomorrow.

A friend, Jack Barber, volunteered his blood for an operation Friday, as a result of which Woolwine showed improvement.

Firemen Guard Ruins
Fearing New Flames

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 15.—Fire that started yesterday in the mixed feed warehouse of the Globe
Grain & Milling company here, destroying over 25,000 tons of hay and 400 tons of raisin stems, is still smoldering today and firemen are on guard to prevent spreading of the blaze.

The loss is estimated at over $600,000 part of which is covered by insurance.

CASE NEARING JURY
LOS ANGELES, Dec. 15.—The case of Michael Deegan, wealthy radium expert, charged with attacking and assaulting Eloise Clement, occult lecturer, last July, is expected to go to the jury today.
A verdict is anticipated before night.

President Grants Clemency to Thirty-One War-Time Prisoners

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—
President Coolidge today commuted the sentences of the thirty-one political prisoners remaining in federal jails.

The clemency was unconditional.

Warrants are being prepared by the department of justice and the men will be freed as soon as the documents can be delivered to the wardens of Leavenworth and Atlanta prisons.

Sentences commuted include those of all wartime prisoners in federal jails convicted at Chicago, Kansas City and Sacramento.

The commutation of services was announced at the

Crushed as though it were a tiny toy, this tangled debris remained as mute evidence of the New York Central wreck at Forsyth, N. Y. It is all that is left of the demolished observation car of the second section of the world renowned Twentieth Century Limited through which the locomotive of the third section plowed before its veteran pilot could bring his speeding charge to a complete stop. Ten of this car's occupants were killed. Fifty others, asleep in their berths in it and the next Pullman for-

CHINESE REAPING HUGE HARVEST ON CHRISTMAS GOODS

(By United Press Leased Wire)
SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 15.—San Francisco has chosen to have a Chinese Christmas.

Mornings, afternoons and nights Chinatown is the mecca of thousands of shoppers—who this year seem to have discovered the charm of the Oriental quarter.

As a result the complacent Celestial merchants are waxing prosperous; some of the smaller shops have little left but bare shelves; and many Oriental business men have suddenly launched new stores—many of them filled with "made in Germany" toys—to catch a bit of the flood of money before it rolls by.

There isn't a vacant store on a business street—or alley—of Chinatown.

In past years Chinatown has had a share of Christmas trade to be sure; but this year the rush is such as to cause the Chinese merchant to spend his days taking in Christian dollars and his nights thanking heathen gods for them.

Says Things Cheap.

"Things cheap," was the explanation of Wu Lun, of the "Shanghai Bazaar," for this sudden tide of trade which would almost overwhelm an American clerk but failed in the least to disturb the Oriental.

"Things no cost much," Wu went on. "How much you got; fifty cents? I got lots things fifty cents."

Whereupon he showed funny "Mah Jongg" dolls that look like Buddhas but have their heads mounted on springs which cause them to nod continually; an assortment of black teakwood bowls; but probably the most beautiful—a porcelain ash tray, enamelled so finely that it easily could be mistaken for cloisine.

"You like um? He fifty cents," Wu explained.

Intricate Designs.

Rice bowls in color of design approaching near to old fashioned willow-ware but with perfect reproductions of grains of rice so introduced into the glaze that they became transparent when held to the light, can be bought for 45 cents.

At Sing Chow's meat market red China ginger jars on little gut stands with covers and all sell for 45 cents—but many purchasers prefer to pay up to 95 cents for the same article to avoid the odors of meat and fish at Sing's place.

A brilliant red—a shade which doesn't seem to have a name but which is a little to the orange side of red—predominates in all of Chinatown's offerings.

But Wu's explanation that "things cheap" doesn't cover the whole reason. For not everything in Chinatown is cheap—although one may buy a combination bone candy fork, toothpick and ear cleaner, pocket size, for a dime, at most any Chinatown store.

Stocks Run Low.

Some things always associated with Chinatown, are rapidly running short. Only a few Chinese puzzles remain. Heavy inroads are being made on the stock of Jasmine tea in fancy packages at $1 for a half pound.

And full many a person this year will have lichee nuts and candied coconut for Christmas, judging from the way these dainties sell.

So even though the Chinese still are heathens—they are glad that Christians have a Christmas.

The release of the prisoners was decided upon following the favorable report from the commission made to Attorney General Daugherty and the

Prison For Slaying

(By United Press Leased Wire)
COQUILLE, Ore., Dec. 15.—Alton Covell, 16-year-old boy charged with killing his stepmother, was found guilty of first degree murder and recommended for a life sentence in prison, by a jury here today after 45 minutes of deliberation.

A force of inspectors, acting under instructions of Postmaster General New began to comb all government departments here for persons holding degrees from "fake" universities.

Graduates of fake law schools, as well as fake medical schools, were sought.

Hundreds of "graduates" of universities exposed in the recent nation-wide diploma mill scandal are employed in the government service, it was charged at the office of the United States district attorney here today.

Some federal employees obtained admission into the government service on the strength of their diplomas, while others secured their degrees from fake schools after entering the service, to enhance their chances for promotion, it was said.

Arthur Covell, the uncle of Alton, believer in Hindoo mysticism, astrology, theosophy and reader of the stars, is facing a sentence to hang, from which he will appeal.

Quiet Wedding

An interesting little wedding was solemnized yesterday morning at 9 o'clock at St. Joseph's church, the Rev. Father H. Eummelen, pastor of the church, officiating. The groom was Gus J. Cazacus of Los Angeles, and the bride, Miss Jennie Elgert of Tehachapi. Mr. and Mrs. Cazacus will reside in Santa Ana.

Young Ladies Sodality

A pleasant meeting of the members of the Young Ladies' Sodality of St. Joseph's church at the Klatt home, 201 East Washington avenue, was held on Thursday evening. The time was passed with Christmas needwork, following a brief business meeting.

Miss Frances Hillman, the prefect of the Sodality, read very interesting accounts of the lives of St. Francis and St. Elizabeth.

At the close of the evening, the hostesses served a delectable collation.

Calumpit Auxiliary

At a special business meeting of the Calumpit auxiliary, U. S. W. V., to be held at G. A. R. hall Tuesday, December 18, at 7:30 p. m. election of officers will be completed before the social evening which the auxiliary will enjoy in company with Calumpit camp.

Arrangements for the evening's program are in charge of a committee composed of Mesdames Estelle Dresser, Neeta Allen and Myrtle Waffle of the auxiliary and Henry Miller and Forest Gay of the camp.

Daughters of Veterans

Tuesday, December 18, the Daughters of Veterans will meet at G. A. R. hall in regular session at 7 o'clock.

De Molay Dance

A large crowd of Master Masons plan to attend the first dancing party of the season, sponsored by the chapter of De Molay which will be held at the local Masonic temple tonight following the chapter's business meeting.

At the business session, the second degree in the De Molay work will be exemplified, much interest being aroused by the fact that the officers will wear the new regalia for the first time.

At 9 o'clock, dancing will begin in the ball-room where the De Molays will welcome all members, as well as Master Masons and Eastern Stars. The music will be furnished by Lester Schroeder's De Molay orchestra whose members are Lester Schroeder, Loren Cannon, William Luck, James Briggs and Spencer Hill.

Next Wednesday night the chapter will present the floor work of both degrees at Huntington Beach before the Masonic lodge of that city, preliminary to the establishment of a chapter there. The work will be given at 7:30 o'clock and all De Molays are urged to attend.

Neighbors of Woodcraft

Neighbors of Woodcraft are planning to meet at M. W. A. hall Monday night at 7:30 for a business meeting and practice for the installation of officers. All officers elect and guards have been requested to be at the hall at 7 o'clock for half an hour's special practice work.

Woman's Bible Class

Preceding the lesson hour of the Woman's Bible class of the First Christian church tomorrow morning, a brief program will feature songs by a ladies' quartette composed of Mrs. Harry Hayes, Miss Carrie Seaton, Mrs. James O'Brien and Miss May Scholes and also a ten-minute talk by Mrs. Terry Stephenson on "What Ebenezer is doing and has done for Santa Ana."

The interest of the subject is expected to attract a large attendance of members and Mrs. F. M. Gist, class teacher, anticipates a crowd in excess of last Sunday's 150.

Daughters of Confederacy

Mrs. James Turner was the pleasant hostess Thursday afternoon to officers of the Emma A. Samson chapter, Daughters of the Confederacy, who met at her home on Eleventh street for the friendly affair.

Of chief interest in the afternoon's discussions, was the approaching date (January 19) of the Lee Memorial dinner and a committee named to secure a place for the dinner to be held, was composed of Mrs. J. W. Taylor, Mrs. Ray Stedman and Mrs. Lavinia Mayfield. Mrs. Alice Oshiner was appointed publicity chairman.

After a lively business meeting, the guests enjoyed an hour of social intercourse which was given added pleasure by Mrs. Turner serving a famous Yuletide dish of the old south, southern boiled custard with assorted cakes, coffee and cheese.

Enjoying her hospitality were Mesdames John B. Lockett of Greenville, president; J. W. Taylor, Hill, Pope of Orange, Ray B. Stedman, Alice Oshiner, Lavinia Mayfield, Catherine Bradford, H. W. Head, Cornelia Phillips and Miss Perle Head.

GAY GIRL BUYS 'OUT STORE' IS JAILED

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Dec. 14.—It was an epochal afternoon, for Miss Margaret Jones, 18, a bobbed-hair blonde, dolled up in a chic automobile storm coat and with the most delightful command of Forty-second street vernacular Memphis girls had heard since Eva Tanguay was in town, strolled into a downtown department store and told a floor walker she was going to be married.

"I've just deposited $10,000 down in the bank," she said, "and I'm going to blow the works for a trousseau that'll make their hair curl."

Miss Jones' debut in the store was a "scream," the salesgirls agreed. Her exit was a bit frustrating, but the entree was something swell.

For six hours Miss Jones held sway, while a score of shop girls laid at her feet for approval a wealth of silks, satins, imported lingerie, furs, shoes, slippers, millinery, lace, ribbons. She staged an orgy of buying that created such excitement among the salesgirls, the assistant manager of the store enjoyed a peek at the dainty, chic and prosperous customer who was having her last fling before signing away her freedom at the altar.

"Set them aside," she would remark with a regal wave of her hand as she swept from one department to another, while salesgirls gathered up her purchases for delivery at her suite in the Hotel Gayoso.

It was 8 o'clock in the evening when Miss Jones reached the millinery display rooms. All the other departments had been closed. She was threatening to take the whole stock, excepting those creations not imported from Paris, when it came time for Cinderella to change her identity.

Up to that hour Miss Jones' purchases totalled $9341.48, according to the accountants, who had concluded an inventory of her remarkable buying and she had given checks for that amount. It had occurred to the assistant manager that he might inquire of the bank and to his utter disgust the cashier didn't know Miss Jones.

Then the police arrived. Not the pale, ordinary, blue-coated brass-buttoned coppers, but a squad of detective sergeants.

"I'm Margaret Jones, No. 1125 North Third street, Birmingham," she said with a show of anger. "I live there with my aunt, Mrs. Molie Jones, and I'm soon to be married to E. W. Jones, No. 908 Michigan avenue, Chicago."

Inquiry by police who communicated with Birmingham and Chicago authorities failed to elicit any information as to the girl's identity.

Detectives said Miss Jones had the most assured air they had seen in many a day.

"We do not wonder that she convinced the department store manager she had just put $10,000 in the bank and had unlimited wealth at her command," they said.

Until some definite information is obtained regarding the girl's people police will take no action in the prosecution. The sales force at the store however, demanded summary punishment. It had been a strenuous, miserable afternoon for them.

Arrange Hawaiian
Guitar Radio Bill

Dorothy Bell Robinson, noted exponent of the Hawaiian steel guitar, will be featured on Monday night's KFWB program, which will be broadcast from The Register studio from 6:30 to 7:30 o'clock. Mrs. Robinson, a thorough musician, has made a special study of the steel guitar and is well-known as player and instructor. She has appeared several times at KKHJ, The Times, Los Angeles with great success. Mrs. Robinson will be assisted by one of her pupils, Marjorie Arnold, in several favorite Hawaiian numbers. Joseph Panta-leone, tenor who has been heard several times at The Register studio, is another artist who will be presented in a song group on Monday night's radio bill.

Accompanied by a nurse, Mrs. Hughes left Los Angeles last August, following an operation for cancer, after surgeons had advised her to take a long sea voyage for her health. Despondency brought on by her physical condition is believed responsible for her suicide.

A cablegram instructing that the body be returned to the United States was immediately dispatched by the husband. Burial will occur in Kensico cemetery, Westchester, New York.

Mrs. Hughes was 39 years of age. She was born in Cleveland. Her mother was Marlan Manola, a noted actress. Before and for a time after her marriage in 1908, Mrs. Hughes appeared on the stage. She was the mother of two children by her first marriage. They are Mrs. John Sanders, of New York, and Rush Hughes, a son, residing here.

She had won honors as a poetess and author, collaborating with her husband in some motion picture scripts, besides writing a few clever plays herself.

SALES FOLK IN
S. A. STORE TO SING CAROLS

Three mornings next week, Monday, Wednesday and Friday, Santa Anans will be given the opportunity to hear Christmas carols sung by a chorus of fifty voices, as the sales force of the Rankin Dry Goods company assembles just within the main entrance of the store for half an hour's singing preliminary to the work of the day.

The program will occupy half an hour and will open each morning at 8:30 o'clock. Directed by Leon Eckles, local baritone and teacher, the girls and women of the force are devoting half an hour daily to chorus singing along the lines established in Los Angeles by Miss Antoinette Sabel, director of industrial music under the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce.

The special Christmas music to be featured three mornings in the week preceding the holiday, is expected to be followed by the establishment of one day each week when the public will be invited to hear the chorus for which Miss Dorothy Hurd is accompanist.

"The quality of voices developed in such a short time is truly amazing," declared Eckles, who predicts that the movement will develop into one of the biggest things musically, that Santa Ana has ever known.

Asserted 'Rich Vag'
Well-Known in S. A.

Police of Santa Ana today said that Ernest Singer, who was arrested and fined $300 on a vagrancy charge yesterday in Pasadena, has a long police record here. In Pasadena, it was said, he had been soliciting alms from residents of that city. He paid the fine and displayed a large roll of bills, it was reported.

According to police of Santa Ana the man served several jail sentences for vagrancy. They asserted that he also canvassed homes in this city for alms.

Alleged Abductors

AUTHOR'S WIFE
ENDS LIFE ON CHINATOUR

By United Press Leased Wire

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 15.—Grim details of death were awaited here today by relatives and friends of Mrs. Adelaide Manola Hughes, wife of Rupert Hughes, noted author and film director, following her suicide yesterday in far away Indo-China.

A brief cablegram was received by Hughes late last night, telling him merely that his wife had taken her own life at Haiphong, a remote village along the coast of the French province, and asking for instructions regarding disposition of the body.

Accompanied by a nurse, Mrs. Hughes left Los Angeles last August, following an operation for cancer, after surgeons had advised her to take a long sea voyage for her health. Despondency brought on by her physical condition is believed responsible for her suicide.

A cablegram instructing that the body be returned to the United States was immediately dispatched by the husband. Burial will occur in Kensico cemetery, Westchester, New York.

Traveling on the Santa Fe, California Limited, Mrs. Lillian M. Turner will leave tomorrow for the store for half an hour's singing preliminary to the work of the day.

Writing to The Register, Representative Swing said:

"This is to acknowledge receipt of a telegram in behalf of Harry Thoros. I am taking the matter up with the war department, and will advise you of the result."

Thoros, according to his attorney in this city, is held at Fort McArthur on a charge of being a deserter from the United States. It was expected that military authorities at San Pedro would conduct a court-martial, to determine the exact facts in the case.

Federal officers charge, according to Thoros, that he failed to report for duty when summoned by the Ruby, Alaska, draft board.

Thoros, however, claims that he had moved to Seattle and did not receive notice that he had been called for service with the American forces. He was placed in the military prison at San Pedro following an investigation which resulted from his application at Los Angeles for citizenship papers. His wife resides in this city.

Smart Little Dinner
Planned to Honor
Host's Birthday

One of the pleasant events of the week was a smartly appointed little dinner with which Mr. and Mrs. Eugene G. Hoff entertained last night at their Washington street home.

The occasion was to celebrate Mr. Hoff's birthday and guests were invited for a 6:30 dinner hour.

A silver basket of deep red carnations graced the center of the table, where gay little cards marked places for Mr. and Mrs. Hoff, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Lamb, Mrs. Eleanor Elliott, Miss Margaret King, Don L. Minikin, A. J. Perkins and Jack Neeland.

Mrs. Hoff's aunt, Mrs. Katherine Perry assisted in entertaining the guests and in serving the delectable dinner, course by course.

An evening of music and conversation had as one of its interesting features, the display of a unique assortment of fans from all corners of the earth, whose collecting has been one of Mrs. Hoff's hobbies.

The collection ranges from the huge hand-painted white satin fan of our grandmothers to a tiny carved affair only a few inches long, sent from Cuba, and includes a quaint circular fan of heavy green silk, once belonging to a member of the German nobility and convertible at need, into a tiny carriage parasol.

The regular meeting of the Lowell school P.T.A. was held Thursday evening in the kindergarten room. After a short business meeting the following program was given by the pupils of the school under the efficient and capable direction of the teachers.

Music by the kindergarten band; dialogue, "The Favorite Tree"; Hazel Simpkins and Calvin Breeding; song, "Holy Night"; Joy Best, Royce Prior and chorus; song, "Santa Claus Land"; "Jolly Old Santa Claus"; twenty-third-grade girls; recitation, "Christmas Turkeys", by Ray Price.

Dance, "The Ace of Diamonds", eighteen primary pupils; play, "Assisting Santa Claus"; pupils of fifth and sixth grades; music school orchestra; Christmas carols; "It Came Upon the Midnight Clear," and "Oh Little Town of Bethlehem," by fourth and fifth and sixth grade pupils.

The Rev. F. T. Porter as speaker of the evening, stressed the importance of co-operation between parents and teachers and attributed success in maturity to foundations laid in school days of the children.

Refreshments of coffee and home-made cake were served during the social hour and a candy sale netted the school treasury nearly fifty dollars.

Tribute was paid Miss Mildred Meade, the capable and efficient principal, and Mrs. C. E. Price who as P.T.A. president has strengthened the splendid co-operation between the parents and the teachers. The association boasts a membership of 319 and nearly that many parents and pupils were present to enjoy the Christmas program.

The work of Miss Jean Jones, teacher of music, and S. J. Mustol, director of the orchestra of twenty-five members, was highly commended.

Ladies' Canton Club

The Ladies of the Canton were very charmingly entertained on Wednesday afternoon at the home of the president, Mrs. Claude Ellis, at Orange. The home was adorned with starry Christmas poinsettias and during the afternoon much merriment was caused by the initiation of two candidates. A many parents and pupils were present to enjoy the Christmas program.

The work of Miss Jean Jones, teacher of music, and S. J. Mustol, director of the orchestra of twenty-five members, was highly commended.

Fraternal Brotherhood

Fraternal Brotherhood met Thursday night at M. W. A. hall, with seventy-five members present, and several reported on the sick list.

Four new members were voted in and accepted, Florence McQueen, Gladys Sifton, M. A. Small, and H. E. Smith. This was followed by the election of officers for next term when considerable friendly rivalry was manifested except in the cases of president, treasurer and musician.

The following were elected: president, P. A. Trickey; past president, H. F. Brookbank; vice president, S. F. Deck; secretary, Mrs. Neva Sutton; treasurer, Mrs. Helena Galbraith; chaplain, Mrs. Nellie Trickey; sergeant, James Hayes; M. A. M. Mrs. Addie Crain; I. D. K. Mrs. Annie Fitzgerald; O. D. K. Cleave Fitzgerald; musician, Nellie Mae Chapman; physicians, Dr. H. G. Huffman and R. C. Burkett; trustees, L. F. Harvey and J. W. Johnson; finance committee, James Hayes and Mrs. Addie Crain; superintendent of the juvenile lodge, Mrs. Laura Sanborn. Officers will be installed next month.

Judge Frances Bartle, district manager, read his report of the work being done during the year, showing a splendid increase of members and interest.

Next meeting, December 20, will be initiation of new members and a program for the juvenile lodge will follow with a Christmas tree. All members invited to bring their children.

Refreshments of home made coffee and cocoas was served by Mrs. B. C. Chapman and her committee.

Miss Dolly Must Be Dressed In Proper Style
When She Peeps Out of Her New Owner's Stocking

If you are going to dress a doll for some small girl's Christmas gift you'll soon find that the doll has a complete and very modish wardrobe of her own.

Here is a modern doll's outfit—an envelope chemise, a fashionable frock with straight ruffled front and back panels, a cape with a collar and a hood trimmed with a pleated ruffl.

All the garments are made of suitable materials—batiste for the underwear, taffeta for the dress and flannel for the cape and hood.

The ensemble is one to delight the feminine heart that is anywhere from five to ten years old.

To complete the happy affair was a 6 o'clock dinner when a little group of husbands of some of the guests, gathered to offer Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell their good wishes and congratulations. The dinner was served at one long table with W. Earl Mitchell the recent bride-groom, in the place of honor and places arranged for the Messrs. G. F. Ludlow, A. J. Mitchell, W. A. Mitchell, Clifford G. Thatcher, R. J. Mitchell and H. E. Ludlow.

Is Honored

Mrs. Allen McDermott recently entertained a company of ladies at her home, 134 West Twenty-first street at an afternoon party in honor of her sister, Mrs. Thompson, of Ithaca, Mich.

The guests were Mrs. L. B. Lauderdale and daughter, Mrs. N. B. Stoddard, from Butte Falls, Ore.

Mrs. Bert Childs, Mrs. Maria Gordon, Mrs. Barbara McDermott and daughter, Belle; Mrs. Marse, Miss Lyons, recently from Michigan; Mrs. Mildred Cratsenberg, Mrs. Leon Launderbach, Mrs. Archie Gordon and Mrs. Luella Green.

Mrs. McDermott, assisted by her daughter, Lucy, served the most delicious luncheon. The afternoon was spent in renewing old acquaintances and the enjoyment of instructive games which the hostess had prepared for their entertainment.

The room was tastefully decorated with glowing poinsettias, and the table was a picture of artistry with its snowy linen, shining equipment and beautiful flowers. The menu was delightful and varied and the guests tarried long enjoying the generous hospitality and good fellowship.

Among those present were Madames Garrison, Palmer, Dunning, Crane, Edgerly, Hendricks, Phillips, Ludwig, Blacketer, Conkle, Wallace and the hostess, Mrs. Louise Potts—who is always doing something to make others happy.

It was late when home-going seemed imperative and the guests reluctantly departed after a day which Mrs. Garrison will ever remember as one of the most gratifying and appreciated of all her term of office as Circle president.

JULIA C. LATHROP SCHOOL OPENING SEEN IN JANUARY

Although a great amount of "clean-up" work remains to be done, indications are that the $285,000 Julia C. Lathrop junior high school, at the foot of Main street, will be ready for occupancy early next year, according to city school officials here today. To be more exact, Principal H. G. Nelson and junior high school teachers hope to be able to move into their new home shortly after the end of the Christmas holiday period, January 2.

"But I am not quite so sure as to this date," said Frank L. Andrews, secretary of the board of education, when asked to name a definite date when the several hundred pupils, now receiving instruction at the Frances Willard school, North Main street, can be transferred to the South Main street school.

Will Accommodate 550.

"It is true," Andrews added, "that teachers and pupils hope to be able to move into the South Main street school early in January, in fact, on January 2, but, to my mind, the big structure will not be ready for occupancy for several weeks. I should say about February 1 would be about right."

According to J. A. Cranston, city superintendent of schools, twenty-three rooms will be available at the new school, including economic and shop room space. This will make room for 550 pupils now attending the North Main street school.

"With all city schools badly

POSTAL INCOME SHOWS LARGE INCREASES

Pointing to post office receipts of $875 yesterday, $200 more than on the same date last year, and receipts of $1000 Tuesday, as indicating big development in Santa Ana the past year, T. E. Stephenson, postmaster, today declared that a great many shippers of Christmas packages do not understand fully what insurance of parcels means.

Commenting on the different amounts of cash received on the dates specified, Stephenson said that Tuesday's receipts were more in the sale of stamps for commercial purposes, while yesterday they were almost exclusively for Christmas shipments.

"Many persons seem to think that insurance means special delivery," said Stephenson. "It does not. It means that if an article is lost or damaged a claim can be made for its value up to the amount of maximum insurance covered by the fee paid."

Tells Shipping Details

Stating that insured articles and ordinary parcels are carried in the same pouches, the postmaster said that special care is given packages marked "fragile" or "perishable."

"It is required that fragile articles be well wrapped," Stephenson added.

According to Stephenson, patrons hesitate answering the questions of the weighing clerk as to whether there is anything breakable in the parcel. He said such persons seem to think that a package may not be insured if it contains something breakable.

"Parcels with this type of merchandise can be insured," he said. "But if there is glassware, chinaware, a clock, watch, or anything that can not stand a bump such as it might receive when tossed into a mail pouch, it is only fair to the sender, the intended recipient and the government to let that fact be known, so the package may be marked 'fragile.'

Rates Are Told

Declaring that many patrons seem to be surprised at the postal charges to Eastern states, Stephenson said that such persons evidently were accustomed to sending parcels to near-by points within a zone carrying lower rates.

They are surprised when they find that a package going to Pennsylvania, New York, Virginia, Florida, Ohio, etc. or other states in the eighth zone bears a rate of 12 cents a pound," continued the postmaster. "Minnesota, Illinois and other states in the seventh zone have a rate of 11 cents for the first pound and 10 cents for each additional pound; Kansas, Arkansas, Oklahoma, part of Texas, part of Missouri, part of Iowa, and other states in the sixth zone bear a rate of 9 cents for the first pound and 8 cents for each additional pound."

Colorado, Oregon, Washington, Idaho, most of New Mexico, part of Texas, and other states in the fifth zone take 8 cents for the first pound and 6 for each additional pound."

"California, from San Francisco north and including San Francisco and Arizona, excepting Yuma points, are in the fourth zone, and take a rate of 7 cents for the first pound and 4 cents for each added pound."

Invest fifty cents to make some child happy Christmas. K. C. Hall tonight.

GRANT REQUEST FOR NEW KELS SANITY TEST

(By United Press Leased Wire)

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Dec. 15.—

Still another sanity test will be made of Alex Kels, wealthy Lodi butcher, who is in the death cell at Folsom prison awaiting January 4, the date set for his execution.

The test is so ordered by the board of prison directors.

This time the test will be an analysis of his spinal fluid to determine whether he is afflicted with disease. If he is, surgeons agree, it is probable that his brain is tainted with insanity.

But if this is found not to be the case, legal authorities here declare, the only means by which Kels might be saved from the gallows would be a commutation of sentence from Governor Richardson or an order from Warden J. J. Smith for a new and complete insanity test on the grounds that Kels had turned insane during his imprisonment.

The decision of the prison board is regarded here and in Lodi as a victory for Mrs. Kels, who, because of her wealth, was a clubwoman, an extravagant millionaire, flitting among the bright lights, mingling with men of wealth and affairs.

Kels' trial showed his evidence that he had purchased the giant power boat "Ivy Fox" were found to be false when Dr. John A. Harris, New York, told authorities he still owned the vessel, having refused to sell it to Kels.

Two aviators, stopped in a flight from Chicago to Georgia in the belief that they might be aids to Kels in his escape, were found to have no knowledge of the swindler de luxe. They were held for twenty-four hours at Fitzgerald, Ga., where they made a forced landing.

Stanley Klarkowski, assistant to Crowe, announced he had obtained evidence that Kels lived a dual life.

"From 6 o'clock in the evening, this man was a wealthy clubman, an extravagant millionaire, flitting among the bright lights, mingling with men of wealth and affairs,"

Klarkowski said, "he was 'Al Bronson,' traveling salesman of moderate means and kept an apartment across the city with another woman."

Meanwhile, three women victims of Kels' operations filed petitions in federal court asking that Kels be declared bankrupt. Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson appointed the Chicago Title and Trust company as receivers for Kels.

Both the Governor and the prison warden have declared themselves convinced by previous tests that Kels is sane.

"It will take the strongest of evidence to induce me to interfere with the order of the court," said Gov. Richardson today.

Warden Smith says he bases his belief in Kels' sanity on the man's actions since he arrived at Folsom and on the recent spinal fluid test.

The new test will be made at the prison by Dr. L. L. Stanley, prison surgeon, assisted by two other surgeons, one to be chosen by Mrs. Kels and the other by Dr. Stanley, within the next few days.

Possessing one of the highest antennae in the city, to which he has attached a "home-made" receiving set, Dr. John Wesley Hancock, radio fan here, last night heard fourteen stations in widely-separated sections of the nation, he reported today.

Dr. Hancock's set, which has Freed-Eiseman heterodyne and a loud speaker, brought in the programs so loud that the amplifier had to be turned down, it was reported.

Here are the stations heard last night:

KDKA, Pittsburgh, Pa.; KGG, Portland, Ore.; KFHJ, Santa Barbara; KFBK, Sacramento; WDAF, Kansas City, Mo.; CFAC, Calgary, Canada; KFAD, Phoenix, Ariz.; KLX, Oakland; KFAE, Pullman, Wash.; KGW, Portland, Ore.; WBAP, Fort Worth, Tex.; KLS, Oakland; WOAW, Omaha, Neb.; WDAP, Chicago, Ill.

Photographs are appropriate Xmas gifts and are reasonably priced at "Boden's Studio"; 107½ E. 4th St., S. W. Sittings on Sunday by appointment. Phone 2115.

EDINGER SQUARE

SOLVES THE CHRISTMAS PROBLEM

Edinger Square, that close-in homesite, is within easy reach of all. Only a good, brisk walk from the business center. On a 5c bus line. Close-in and within the reach of all in price and terms.

No doubt there will be other opportunities—many of them—to make money in Santa Ana real estate, but never again can you buy property so close in, so desirably located, in such an excellent home district, at such low prices and on such liberal terms.

This Close in Property will Not Wait

Your dollars will go further today than they will a few short months from now. Payments of as little as $3.00 down and $3.00 a week are accepted.

Make this a happy Christmas for yourself and family by making a payment that will lead to a home of your own.

DRIVE OUT TODAY

Straight south on Main Street to Edinger Street and see the busiest bungalow-building section of Santa Ana.

BY HORACE FINE

Register Automobile Editor
Have men and women who operate automobiles lost all respect for themselves and the fine courtesies that distinguished a man as a gentleman and a woman as a lady?

This question is prompted by frequent complaints about thoughtless motorists' cutting through a funeral procession. The most recent instance of this flagrant disrespect for the dead occurred here Wednesday, when the remains of a pioneer resident of Santa Ana were being conveyed to their last resting place at Fairhaven cemetery.

According to statements made to me, the funeral cortege was crossed twice while it was crossing North Main street, on Seventeenth street. Such incidents frequently have been brought to my attention recently. They seem of more frequent occurrence in the past few weeks.

Custom Is Cited.

Because of this I feel constrained to call it to the attention of local motorists. Of course, I know that Santa Ana motorists would not be guilty of disregarding a custom that has been in vogue since the beginning of time—the offense, no doubt, is committed by drivers without the precincts of this city!

I wonder if the men and women who today operate gas wagons can recall the period when the horse-drawn vehicle was the principal means of transportation? I wonder if they recall that it was the custom of men and women of those days to stop their vehicles while a funeral procession was passing—and do the men remember that when in a halted buggy or wagon men uncovered their heads?

Younger Folk Suspected.

This courtesy to and respect for the dead seems to have been forgotten today—and I suspect that the offenders largely are young men and women who were not traversing this mundane sphere in the days of the horse-drawn vehicles.

This is a hurry age, I know, but surely we have time when traveling to pause a moment, or detour, to permit a funeral procession to pass—and in this day of the motor hearse, it takes but a minute for the average cortege to pass a giving point.

Let's be respectful to the dead.

Permits Required To Cut Holly, Motorists Warned

Only limited quantities of holly may be gathered under the rules and regulations of the forestry department, and in all cases permits are necessary, according to advice received here by the touring bureau of the Automobile Club of Southern California.

The supply is good this year, is the report of the forestry department, but where it is gathered on private lands, the consent of the owner must be obtained. Everyone gathering the holly is urged to protect this shrub as far as possible in order that supplies may be conserved for future years.

Move Firestone Tire Agency Here to New Location on N. Main

Ward H. Sutton, local distributor of Firestone tires, today had completed moving his business enterprise from 415 West Fourth street to 211 North Main street, occupying the premises recently vacated by the General Tire agency.

Pointing out that in his new location he has better facilities than in the old for caring for patrons, Sutton said he bought into the tire agency at his former location on December 9, 1918, and vacated the location December 9, 1923.

AUTOMOTIVE GIFTS ARE GAINING FAVOR

With the interest of the average family centered around their automobile, it is going to be an exceedingly easy task for the Christmas shopper to decide upon a suitable and appreciative gift this year, in the opinion of J. W. Campbell, manager of the Santa Ana store of the Western Auto Supply company.

"This Christmas has again taken a decidedly automotive atmosphere and from all appearances will continue to do so, unchecked for years to come," says Campbell. The slogan of last year 'Something for the car for Christmas' is again brought forward this season.

"So marked is the interest in automobile accessories and equipment for Christmas presents that it is certain that the family tree will be bending with articles for car owners that will increase their comfort and enjoyment in motoring."

It is believed that final decision to make direct service available to the cities through the club branches was the result of the efforts of the association here to procure a branch.

LICENSE PLATE SERVICE HERE IS PROMISED

Quick Service Is Seen In Announcement That Auto
Club Gets Authority

Offering a direct and quick service to motorists, the Santa Ana branch of the Automobile Club of Southern California today had authority to accept automobile registrations and issue license plates according to word received here today from the division of motor vehicles at Sacramento.

Will H. Marsh, superintendent of the division, in a statement, advised that Santa Ana is one of forty-one cities in the state that have been designated by the department as points at which the direct service will be given. In Southern California there are twenty-seven cities outside of Los Angeles. It was pointed out, however, the automobile plates only will be issued at the branches.

Rapid Distribution Seen.

"Extension of service to the cities will mean a more rapid distribution of plates for 1924 than has ever been given before, and will mean much less congestion in the six offices now being operated by the division," said Marsh.

"The service being rendered by the clubs will not be confined to club membership, but will be extended to the general public. Automobile plates only will be distributed from these branch offices. No truck, trailer, chauffeur or any other registrations will be registered by any of them. The business of these offices will be confined exclusively to new and renewal registrations of automobiles.

Local Efforts Awarded.
"Certificates of registration will not be issued at any of the offices at the time of assignment of plates. A temporary receipt will be given and the same will be used until such time as the certificate of registration is issued by the department."

It was recalled here today that the Orange County Automobile Trades association a few months ago made a direct effort to have a branch of the state division located in Santa Ana. Marsh came here at the request of association members and met with a group of prominent local men to discuss the proposition.

It is believed that final decision to make direct service available to the cities through the club branches was the result of the efforts of the association here to procure a branch.

TAKE WILD BEARS IN CAR TO WHITE HOUSE

R. B. Pearson, "Colonel Idaho Bill," rolled into the White House a week ago to present President Coolidge with a brace of wild bears. He had them with him, outside in a Dodge Brothers screen side car, according to O. A. Haley, agent for Dodge Brother cars.

"President Coolidge enjoyed the presentation ceremony immensely," said Haley. "Known as a man who seldom smiles, he enjoyed the antics of the bears with all of the enthusiasm of a school boy."

"The Dodge Brothers car used in delivering the bears made 4,000 miles on this particular trip from Mexico and has made a total of over 100,000 miles in exploration and hunting trips undertaken by the colonel."

Suitiorium odorless dry cleaning, first class service. 309 No. Sycamore. Phone 279.

When you find a lost license plate while driving along the highway, please return it to the nearest branch of the Automobile Club of Southern California, is a request that is made of motorists in an effort to save expense where plates have been lost. The Automobile Club will be glad to take charge of these lost plates and notify the owners, without charge. The records show that hundreds of license plates work loose and are lost unknown to the driver, and it is expected that this new service will be welcomed by all operators of motor vehicles.

AUTO REGISTRY LIST AGAIN IN BIG INCREASE

The growth of the automobile industry in the state of California is reflected in the comparative figures of registrations given out by Will H. Marsh, chief of the division of motor vehicles, for the month of November.

Comments of Hudson sedan owners are always complimentary to the car," said Willey. "They are boosters—and this is what is increasing the sale here of enclosed Hudsons to the point where the line is attaining a commanding position in this territory."

Carrying out the program of the Hudson line, the chief of the division reports that in spite of the increased registrations and increased collections, the department at Sacramento and the five branches were operated on a payroll cost for the month of $25,112.36, against $29,487.32 for November, 1922, showing a net saving of $4,373.96 on this item alone.

The courtship started about a year ago when Jones met the girl in her little shop. Jones, it is said, will finish his term of service in January and then the couple will go to housekeeping.

STUDEBAKER OF LONG MILEAGE INTERESTS

Mastering deserts, mountains, and mud, "Grandaddy Studebaker" is steadily making its way east, and is scheduled to arrive at New York in January for the automobile show, according to Potter Bowles of the Bowles Motor company, local Studebaker distributor.

"Grandaddy Studebaker" is the 1919 Studebaker with a record of 475,000 miles that started from Los Angeles, a few days ago on a run to New York City for the big show there, Bowles explained. Following the show it will be driven to St. Louis to be placed in the Studebaker hall of fame, along with such famous vehicles as carriages of President Lincoln, General Grant, General Lafayette, some ancient Studebaker carriages, and the original prairie schooner that John Studebaker built and crossed the plains in to California, Bowles added. He said that the old car is being exhibited in many cities en route.

Injured in Fire When Auto Hits Freight Car

GARDEN CITY, N. Y., Dec. 14.—An automobile collided with a freight train backing at the Washington avenue crossing of the Long Island Railroad here, injuring its two occupants, Napoleon Thatcher, 31, Portuguese negro, and Henrietta Smith, negress. The automobile became wedged between the sides of the caboose and the third rail. A short circuit resulted, which started a fire that destroyed the automobile and burned the caboose and the nearest car.

WOULD LAUNCH JOHNSON CLUB HERE SOON

Preliminaries to organization here of a Johnson-for-President club will be instituted immediately following the holidays, according to a declaration made here today by A. J. Crookshank, president of the First National bank and one of Senator Johnson's most ardent supporters in his candidacy for election as the chief executive of the United States.

Crookshank's statement served still further to enthuse Santa Anans who had returned here yesterday from Los Angeles, where, at a meeting of Johnson adherents, preliminary organization of an association was effected, with Dell A. Switzer named as its head.

At the same time it developed that there is a diversity of opinion among some of Johnson's staunch supporters as to whether a club should be organized here early or late in the campaign.

W. C. Jerome, county auditor, declared his belief that organization should be deferred to a date late in the campaign.

See Early Action

Pointing out that clubs are being formed in other parts of the state, and expressing the belief that early organization will be effective in the promotion of Johnson's interests, Crookshank said that he was of the opinion that creation of a local club would be effected early in January.

J. N. Anderson, former state senator, was among the Santa Anans who were present at the Johnson meeting.

Among other county residents present were Mrs. Anderson, Lewis H. Wallace, Newport Beach; Mrs. Parker, Orange, and Mrs. D. Eymann Huff, El Modena. Anderson said today that prominent Johnson men of Los Angeles were almost unanimous in their opinion that early organization will best serve the interests of Johnson.

Solon Lauded

Dr. C. D. Ball, Anderson, Jerome and Crookshank were enthusiastic in declarations that the senior United States Senator from California will be the next President of the United States.

"Senator Johnson stands out as the most progressive legislator in the United States, and he is gaining favor and popularity all through the East," declared Dr. Ball.

"The Californian is stronger with the national organization in the East than he ever has been in the past," said Jerome. "He is doing things for the Republican party, and he has increased his national strength by his attitude on the league of nations and opposition to a world court under the dominance of the league of nations."

Who Has the Better Bargain—You or Your Packard Neighbor?

Many a man who took a second or third choice car, because he felt he couldn't afford a Packard, later learned that his car actually cost him more than a Packard cost his neighbor.

Figure it out. Packard Single-Six owners get 16 to 18 miles to the gallon of gas. They get up to 20,000 miles or more to the set of tires. Owners of other cars envy them for their freedom from mechanical annoyances. And Single-Six owners know that the gas and oil and tire savings go a long way toward paying the mechanical maintenance needed by the Packard.

The Packard Single-Six is good for many years—and when it is turned in for another Packard it has cost less and given more than any car on the road.

The facts are becoming known—and Packard sales are growing as never before.

BATTERY 'DOPE' HELD USUALLY HARMFUL

There are so many wonderful things being done every day that when a man says he has a solution of very, very secret nature, with some peculiar metal in it, which puts new life into a battery, nine out of ten people are ready to believe him without question, declared Earl Matthews of the Orange County Ignition works, today.

"The whole scheme of battery doping seems so plausible that dozens of companies have been led to start in business manufacturing 'dopes' of various sorts," said Matthews.

"Some of these battery medicines are really harmless, and the worst that can be said about them is that they do no good—except that they relieve the car owner of $5 which he might invest in gas, tires, oil, or something else more essential to the car. There are others that do actual harm by taking active material away from the battery plates and by introducing foreign substances into the battery solution."

"As a result of a recent check-up on the subject of battery 'dopes,' the Willard Storage Battery company found that all makers of standard well-known batteries are agreed upon the fact that the only satisfactory battery solution is diluted pure sulphuric acid of the proper density."

New Oldsmobile Six

demonstrates new degree of engine flexibility and motor car stamina

The first car to cross the American continent in high gear! Driven by "Cannonball" Baker, holder of numerous road records, a new Oldsmobile Six (stock car with standard gear ratio) traveled 3,674 miles under every conceivable road and weather condition. Rain, snow, mud, rock-strewn passes and washed-out roads were encountered. Grades ranging from 5 to 17 per cent were negotiated. Yet, during this test, the car averaged 28.7 miles per gallon of gasoline.

This run was planned to demonstrate the great flexibility and stamina of the new Oldsmobile Six by subjecting the car to the most unreasonable driving conditions. The 12 1/2 days of the trip were equivalent to years of average driving. The fact that the car came through this grueling test with only minor adjustments and no recourse to the emergency kit, is proof of the car's ability to give satisfaction in the hands of owners.

WOMAN OF 88 TAKES 8000 MILE TOUR

Eighty-eight years old, and with health and constitution typical of the sturdy pioneer, "Grandma" Collins, mother of Mrs. J. Q. Johnson of Orange and Mrs. L. E. Stoves of Garden Grove, today was at the home of the latter, following her return from an automobile trip that carried her more than $100 miles and through thirteen states.

She was accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Stoves on the tour, the party being absent four months. The aged woman stood the journey remarkably well and she declared she felt no more fatigued than would a woman sixty years her junior. The tour was made in a Reo.

Mrs. Stoves has prepared the following interesting description of the trip, in the belief that it would of interest and informative to the many county friends of the family:

Oregon Scenic

"Leaving here July 19, we followed the state highway north into Oregon. Crossing the state line into Oregon, we dropped down into the Rogue-river valley, with its rich farming lands, and large orchards. Always rushing and bounding, the river puts new life into those who watch its rushing waters. We drove through Myrtle Creek and Roseburg, down the most wonderful canyons. A farm house here and there, with cattle feeding in peaceful pastures, lend an added charm to the scenes. Easy grades over the Cascade mountains make traveling easy. We saw parts of the old road we traveled in 1918 and we wondered how we came safely over the mountains.

"Through the college towns of Eugene and Corvallis, surrounded by green hills and fertile valleys, we went through Portland and over the Columbia highway, with its sylvan falls, and many miles of scenes, winding trails and good roadway we reached Rainier Park. Here our's was one of 260,000 autos to cross the river during July. We reached Kelso, Wash., July 25, and passed four weeks with relatives and friends there and in Tacoma, Centralia, Everett, Mt. Vernon and Bellingham.

Many Orchards

"From Western Washington we slipped over the Cascades and down into the Yakima valley, with its large orchards and alfalfa fields. At Sunnyside we visited the family of Howard Collins, following which we went on our way through Walla Walla and Pendleton over the hills of Eastern Oregon, into Idaho and to the beautiful city of Boise, where we visited Mrs. Eunice Folsom and children. (Mrs. Folsom is a sister of "Grandma" Collins.) From Boise to Eastern Nebraska there were no trees provided for shelter from the sun while camping.

"Our journey through Wyoming was over mountains, most of the land being too high and dry to be of use. The roads, however, were good. Following the Lincoln highway, we went to Cozad, Neb., to visit Truman Collins. Some roads we were two and a half days traveling 300 miles. Iowa was most beautifully clothed in green—green pastures, grain and corn-fields. We visited relatives in Parkersburg, Cedar Falls, New Hartford and Waterloo, Iowa.

Meets Old Friends

Going into Minnesota, we toured to Minneapolis, Minnehaha falls, the lakes at Excelsior and to Owatonna, where we stopped with relatives and returned again to Iowa, stopping at Mitchellville, Valley Junction and Weldon. From the latter place we went south to Hopkins, Mo., our old home town, reaching there Oct. 9, and three days later attended a farmers' picnic, where we met many old friends."

"Grandma" Collins' birthday was on the fifteenth of October, when rain spoiled a birthday party planned for her at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. N. Otis of Lone Oak farm. She was 88 years old.

"We started homeward November 13. We found the roads in Eastern Kansas rough. The third day out we broke the rear axle, and we were compelled to wait three days while repairs were being made. Entering Colorado between Cooldige and Holly, we came into great fields of sugar beets that reminded us very much of Orange county.

Camp En Route

"From Trinidad we climbed over the mountains and down into New Mexico. Here one cannot help but reflect upon the hardships and struggles of men and women who endured this same journey by prairie schooner.

"Through Raton, Las Vegas and ancient towns of sun-baked brick, past ruins of the old Pecos church, we drove to Glioretta summit and dropped down into Santa Fe. A sheer descent of 3000 feet is made between Santa Fe and Albuquerque. Our route was by Los Lunas, Magdalena, the petrified forest, Meteor fountain and over Canyon Diablo, through the painted desert, to Flagstaff, Ariz., where we experienced our coldest weather.

"And then we motored on across the desert to Cajon pass—and here beautiful Southern California opened to us, and our journey was near its end.

"We traveled 8179 miles, through thirteen states and visited with seventy-eight relatives of "Grandma" Collins and forty-one relatives of Mr. Stoves, besides hosts of friends.

"We camped en route except in Colorado, New Mexico and Flagstaff, Ariz., "Grandma" entertaining us with stories of her trips by ox teams from Illinois to Iowa, to Kansas, and back again to Missouri."

Two Convicted Men Fight in Courtroom

BALTIMORE, Md., Dec. 15.—Two convicted men grappled in criminal court, a few minutes after they had been sentenced to the house of correction. Guards separated them.

Charles Beck, who had been given a term of two and a half years, said his partner, Owen Sikk, whose sentence was three years, had attacked him because he had "told the truth" in his testimony.

Judge Stelm changed Beck's sentence to the penitentiary to keep the men separate. They had been charged with robbing a South Baltimore drug store of cocaine and other drugs.

ACCUSED JUDGE UNDISTURBED BY PROBE

Anaheim Justice Welcomes Investigation of His Official Conduct

By FAYETTE COPELAND

ANAHEIM, Dec. 15.—In his little office in the city hall, the most-talked-about man in Anaheim—Judge G. B. Brown—smiled as he greeted the dozens of friends who rushed to assure him of their confidence in his integrity, following the demand of the Myer's Men's Bible Class that he be removed.

Branded Inefficient

The petition, which was presented to the board of trustees at their regular weekly meeting, contains 228 signatures, and brands the judge as "inefficient and incompetent" in the discharge of his duties as city recorder of Anaheim.

Today Judge Brown's only reply to the accusations was to grin and say, "I have no excuses or apologies to make. I welcome a thorough investigation of the conduct of my office."

The fight of the Reverend Myers attracted considerable notice when, on November 22, an open letter to Judge Brown, signed "Myer's Men's Bible Class," was published in an afternoon newspaper. The letter followed an interview between the minister and the judge in which, it is said, opinions were candidly expressed. "We write this open letter," the epistle read, "because of your unqualified antagonism to certain of our laws."

Comparisons Given

In this open letter the writers outlined in great detail the comparison of fines collected during the previous three months by justice courts in Santa Ana, Anaheim and Fullerton.

These comparisons were as follows:

City Recorder (August)
4 cases of drunkenness, fines collected $75
3 cases of motor vehicle act violations 20
Miscellaneous cases, fines collected 23
Justice of Peace 115

$233 (This does not consider one $300 suspended fine.)

Santa Ana $4516

Fullerton $4228

The September comparison was as follows:

4 cases of drunkenness $85
19 cases of motor vehicle act violations 150
Miscellaneous 75

$310

Santa Ana $4424

Fullerton $3442

The following October comparison was made:

1 case of drunkenness $25
20 cases of motor vehicle act violations 235
12 miscellaneous cases 12

$272

Santa Ana $6465

Fullerton $5328

Continuing its accusations, the letter stated: "It is a matter of fact that during September 100 arrests were made by the motor vehicle officer alone of 19 as per your report. The assessment of a minimum fine would have netted $1000. During October there were 60 arrests of violators of the motor vehicle act instead of 30 as your report shows. Witnesses state that they have seen red cards by the dozen torn up and thrown into your spittoon or into your waste paper basket."

"We are told by men in position to know that our police department is made a laughing stock. The district attorney's office is withdrawing all criminal cases from the justice court of Anaheim on account of incompetency, so we are informed."

"There are several who feel that the city council are backing you in the obvious degree of inefficiency and that they would discharge you if you did your duty."

To this attack, Judge Brown refused to make any answer whatever.

The petitions were circulated shortly afterward, and were presented to the board of trustees at the regular meeting Thursday. The wording of the petition follows:

Asks Resignation

"We, the undersigned citizens of the city of Anaheim, hereby request that your esteemed body secure at the first opportunity the resignation of Judge Brown, the city recorder. His well known inefficiency and incompetence constituting the sufficient reasons therefor."

During the past two weeks, according to Judge Brown, numerous residents of the city have called him and asked him that their names be withdrawn from the petition, stating that they signed the document without knowing what it contained.

In a statement issued yesterday by the Reverend Myers and signed, "Myers Men's Bible Class" the following statements were contained:

"Our investigation reveals to our satisfaction that the whole course of justice is being held up by one man located in the police court, and we feel that our duty is done by naming that man. Any delay such as was mentioned by the Bulletin this morning will be interpreted by us as arranging for the covering of tracks and a general whitewashing instead of a real investigation."

Anaheim Citrus Men Paid For Culls At 5 Cents Pound

ANAHEIM, Dec. 15.—More than 100 members of the Anaheim Walnut Growers Association received a welcome form of "Christmas cheer" to-day when Manager Walter Ross mailed checks representing five cents a pound on culls. Approximately $6,000 was paid out to growers in this installment.

Walnut men of this vicinity, who usually consider the cull checks as "velvet" were more than ordinarily elated over the payment, since all payments so far made on last year's culls do not exceed five cents a pound. At least one more installment on the culls will be paid to the growers early next year, Ross stated.

The Anaheim house has established what is thought to be a record in quick payments this season. Manager Ross had his accounts in such excellent shape that the $265,000 was paid to growers within a week after the pool closed on November 20, while members of other associations in the county did not receive their checks until this week.

Claims Prisoner Is Montana Bank Robber

STOCKTON, Cal., Dec. 15.—Sheriff F. S. Stocke of Conrad, Mont., is en route to Stockton today to take back Arthur G. Davis, alleged to have robbed banks at Homestead and Sheridan, Mont.

Davis was arrested here in company with Elmer Stevens. The men had a quantity of cheap jewelry in their possession.

Davis was released from the Lodge prison in 1922 and seven warrants have been issued for him since charging burglary and robbery, according to officers.

HIGHWAYMAN IS THWARTED BY TINY BOTTLE

Balboa Woman Commands Would-be Robber to 'Shut Up, Not Move'

BALBOA, Dec. 15.—Using a bottle of medicine as a bluff for a revolver, Mrs. H. T. Ireland carried a would-be highwayman four miles on the running board of her automobile that her husband was driving to a filling station on the roadside and there two men let him get away.

Wells Going Home

The Irelands were driving to Balboa and when only about two miles out of Santa Ana a man jumped on the running board of their car, seemingly from another car traveling slowly in the same direction and then called to the driver of that car to come on. He had both hands on the side of the Ireland car to keep from falling off and said something to Mr. Ireland who was driving that sounded like:

"Throw up your hands."

Mrs. Ireland had bought a bottle of medicine before starting for her home in this city and had it in her hand. She shouted to the bandit to shut up and not move and he obeyed the order, at the same time Ireland stepped on the gas and raced his car several miles down the highway without meeting anyone and pulled up at a filling station.

There he called to the station agent and asked if he had a gun, but before the gun was produced the bandit dropped off and disappeared in the darkness.

It was also reported that Harry Welch and George T. Peabody of this district went to New York for a conference with Southern Pacific officials on changes and improvements in service in the harbor district. From New York the delegation went to New Orleans to inspect that harbor and will proceed to California from that point.

Seek U. P. Assistance

It was also reported that Harry Welch and George T. Peabody of this district went to New York for a conference with Southern Pacific officials on changes and improvements in service in the harbor district. From New York the delegation went to New Orleans to inspect that harbor and will proceed to California from that point.

The nominations will close December 24 and immediately thereafter the list will be mailed to every member whose dues are paid.

About 100 members have not paid their original dues and in order for those members to vote they must send in their annual dues of $5.

To Meet At Mesa

It was also decided to hold the annual meeting January 3 in the club house at Costa Mesa, and that the meeting will be an open one. At that time the ballots will be counted for the election of directors, as January 3 will be the final date on which voting may be done. Secretary Welch will have charge of the election.

J. P. Greeley, chairman of the finance committee, was appointed to visit such members who have not received their membership cards or whose dues are unpaid.

"PIONEER TRAILS" OPENS AT TEMPLE TOMORROW

Historically correct are the settings used in "Pioneer Trails," which will be exhibited at the Temple theater for four days beginning tomorrow. For many weeks before production was begun, the Research department of Vitagraph was busy checking scenes in the film and obtaining information and descriptions of buildings and towns of the gold rush period of '49 for use in "Pioneer Trails."

The Burnt Boot Saloon in the picture is an exact replica of the famous "El Dorado," a saloon and gambling den of the days of the early fifties. The bar and dance hall are exact copies of this famous place.

The street scenes were made in a town built to duplicate in every detail the manner of construction of those days. The many road with its pine-board dwellings caused many old-timers to marvel at the exactness of reproduction.

David Smith, who directed "Pioneer Trails," insisted that every detail be correct before he began filming the picture. He required the town officials to reflect the spirit and life of the West thoroughly so that there would be no need for subtitles to carry over the impression of the early days which should be shown in actual scenes.

A scene from "The Pioneer Trail," picture which begins four-day engagement at the Temple theater tomorrow.

mittance Woman," now on view at the Princess.

"The Remittance Woman" is a red-blooded tale, replete with swift adventure, wholesome romance, mystery, suspense and all the other ingredients of entertainment that go to make a good motion picture.

As an American girl precipitated by fate into the swift current of adventure in the Orient — Ethel Clayton has the most striking role of her career.

Miss Clayton has superb support in "The Remittance Woman." Among the players are Rockcliffe Fellowes, Mario Carillo, Frank Lanning, Tom Wilson, Etta Lee, James B. Leong, Edward Kimball and Toyo Fugita.

RUSSELL SIMPSON IN CAST OF "RIP TIDE"

Among the brilliant ensemble of gifted artists who are found in "The Rip Tide," which will be screened at the Yost theater tonight only, is Russell Simpson, a player of the old school, whose screen technique gives evidence of his long years of experience upon Cullen Landis and Alice Calhoun in "The Remittance Woman," which closes at the West End tonight.

TONIGHT'S ATTRACTIONS
 YOST — Vaudeville and "The Rip Tide," with Stuart Holmes.
 WEST END — "The Midnight Alarm," with Alice Calhoun.
 TEMPLE — "Barriers of Folly," with Eva Novak.
 PRINCESS — "The Remittance Woman," with Ethel Clayton.

"THE MIDNIGHT ALARM" TO END RUN TONIGHT

Few finer bits of work has ever been done by any actress than that displayed by Alice Calhoun in one of the swiftest-moving photoplays produced, "The Midnight Alarm," which closes at the West End tonight. Whimsically charming as Sparkie, lost daughter of wealth, Miss Calhoun gives a characterization that wins its way into the sympathetic hearts of spectators.

Percy Marmont, Cullen Landis and Joseph Kilgour, who played "heavy," earned great praise by their remarkable character interpretation. George Pierce was excellent as the hardened father, while Kitte Buxbury gave a pathetic touch as Mrs. Tilwell. Maxine Elliot Hicks played the part of Aggie, crippled waif, charmingly.

"THE MIDNIGHT ALARM" TO CLOSES RUN TONIGHT

David Smith, director of "The Midnight Alarm," the production, which will be exhibited for the last times tonight at the West End, is so insistent on realism that he has barred use of any tricks to obtain thrill illusions.

In making "The Midnight Alarm," he refuses to set aside his rule, in order to simplify the taking of many daring scenes. One of the most important scenes of this type is the wrecking of an automobile by a train.

When the calculations reached were submitted, the railroad officials were convinced that the stunt, if properly done, could be carried out without injury to the train crew. This wreck scene is one of the most thrilling episodes in the photoplay.

"The Midnight Alarm" is a story of a plotting business man to win an orphan fortune. Alice Calhoun plays the leading role of Sparkie, the orphan. Joseph Kilgour is the villain. Percy Marmont is the fireman sweetheart, while Cullen Landis is posed as a likeable young crook.

FULLERTON WOMEN'S CLUB ENTERTAINED

FULLERTON, Dec. 15.—The Woman's club was entertained in a novel and delightful way at the home of S. W. Douglas on West Wilshire, which was decorated with a mass of holly and poinsettias and soft red-shaded lights. The guests came in the costume of famous characters created by Charles Dickens, and were greeted by members of the famous Cratchit family. Mrs. S. W. Douglas representing Mother Cratchit; Mildred Pierce, Bob Cratchit; Mrs. Alexander Pierce, Bellinda; Mrs. Orla Jencks, Peter; and Helen Andrews, Tiny Tim.

Among the sixty guests of the Cratchit family were Mr. and Mrs. McEacher, Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Nickleby and their daughter, Kate, the unfortunate Mr. Pickwick, and Samuel Veller, the fat boy, and many other characters immortalized by the famous novelist. Gathering around the Yule log, the strange company listened to the story of Dickens' life told by Miss Grace Miller, who revealed many interesting incidents not generally known.

The windows were then opened and sitting in the dim light cast by tall red candles, the guests listened to the singing of old English carols from an invisible choir which circled the house and patio. A glimpse as they passed the open window showed them clad in the white vestments of church of England choirs.

Later, as they came into the room, Mrs. Paul Wimans, Miss Kathleen Rye and Miss Maude Lamb sang as a trio, "O Holy Night." The choir was composed of Mrs. Wimans, Misses Kathleen Rye, Maude Lamb, Sarah Olin, Louise Siebarth, Helen Davidson, Lisa Duckstand, Hazel Gray, Geneva Kincaid and Verle Jensen.

"The Christmas Carol" was told jointly by Tiny Tim and Mother Cratchit, and acted by Scrooge and Marley during the telling. The part of Scrooge was portrayed by Mrs. William Starbuck and that of the ghost by Miss Minnie Maxwell.

Tiny Tim then led the way to the patio of the Douglas home, where an orange tree had been transformed into a real Christmas tree with electric lights and appropriate decorations. In the fireplace of the patio were hung sixty stockings bursting with packages, which proved to contain refreshments and a gift for every guest.

At the close of the festival the entire group joined in singing "Silent Night" and Mother Cratchit gave as a farewell Tiny Tim's famous words, "God Bless us Every one!"

DON'T DOUBT YOUR WIFE
 AT YOST TOMORROW
 If a husband has not faith in his wife; if he is unreasonably, foolishly jealous; if he believes the tongues of gossip in preference to his wife; if he judges by appearance rather than the truth, does marriage pay for a woman?

A woman has answered these questions in "Don't Doubt Your Wife," the picture which shows at the Yost theater tomorrow only.

Leah Baird, herself a woman of keen perceptions, broad vision and great intelligence, wrote "Don't Doubt Your Wife." She is also the star.

Edward Peil and Emory Johnson share honors, for though this is a story of the eternal triangle, it contains neither hero nor villain. Katherine Lewis and Mathilde Brundage have small but important parts.

DOUGLAS MACLEAN'S LATEST COMEDY AT WEST END

A small fleet of airplanes—eleven in all—and a Goodyear blimp, the only model of its kind on the Pacific Coast, were utilized in Douglas MacLean's new picture, "Going Up," which begins a five day engagement at the West End theater tomorrow.

Several skilled pilots were called in to help carry out MacLean's and the director's ideas. Several of these expert birdmen risked their lives repeatedly in order that the thrills and laughs could be embodied.

A number of scenes were made with four planes flying in close formation. One carried Ingraham, another the cameraman, the third carried MacLean, while the fourth had his French flying opponent. Ingraham's machine kept pace with the others as he signalled directions.

A fast-flying Italian "Ballila" biplane, formerly owned by Captain Eddie Rickenbacker, the American ace, was used in filming some of the other scenes where some thrilling maneuvers were executed.

Two new planes, purchased by MacLean from the United States Air Service, were intentionally wrecked during the picture while a Question—What is an inductance coil?

M. R. C., Orange Avenue.

ANSWER—The answer to the tuning coil query above will apply here also as a tuning coil is also an inductance coil. Honeycomb coils and other coils with many layers of wire wound on them would also come under this head.

All such coils are said to have a certain amount of inductance which is dependent on the size of wire and the number of turns, as well as the insulation between the turns. The greater the in-ductance of a tuning coil, the higher the wave-length to which it will tune.

An inductance coil in which the number of turns of wire are not variable, is usually tuned by connecting a variable condenser either in series with it, or in parallel. When a variable condenser is placed in series with a coil, the natural wave-length of the coil is lowered. When they are connected in parallel, the resulting wave-length is higher than the natural wave-length to which the coil will respond without the use of any condenser.

QUESTION—Is a mica diaphragm better than a steel diaphragm?
J. R., Anaheim.

ANSWER—A mica diaphragm will give much better reproduction when it is made of good quality ruby mica. It will not usually rattle when certain frequencies are reproduced as will a metal diaphragm. It is less subject to expansion and contraction under changes of weather conditions and will not rust. All in all, a mica diaphragm will, when properly fitted to a receiver, give much better results than a sheet metal diaphragm.

Suggestions for Loud Speaker
Sounds from a loud speaker can be improved by turning the horn against the wall in such a way that its mouth is about an inch away.
This will give "depth" to the music and if the correct distance from the wall is found, the results will be much better. There are other variations on this, among them the turning and opening of the horn into a wooden chopping bowl. This may be fastened to the horn by small brass strips.

A ROBIN with a broken leg will stand on the other at sunset and sing his evening song. A child crippled and unable to walk still has joy in its heart.

CAPTAINS OF COMMERCE

A business critic whose judgment carries weight everywhere in the United States remarks that at present "the best business brains of the country are engaged in production."

This blunt statement will make a lot of business men catch their breath and wonder what the critic means by insulting them. No insult is intended. The critic recognizes that there are able and devoted men in all the important lines of business and in every community. And great progress has been made in department stores, chain stores systems, etc. But he insists that as a general proposition, more ability and intelligence are being devoted to manufacturing than to distribution.

This is true, as any thoughtful observer may see for himself by comparing production processes and costs with distribution processes and costs.

It costs, on the average, more to sell an article than it does to make it. In many lines of manufacture, the factory selling price is only a quarter of the retail price.

There is seldom any particular person or group to "get mad at" about the matter. Seldom does anyone seem to be making an exorbitant profit. The trouble is that there are so many links in the chain of distribution, and there is so much walking around corners and up and down stairs, so to speak, in the devious route from factory to consumer, that goods which seemingly ought to be cheap become dear. The saving of steps and pennies and time, the efficiency which is now characteristic of industrial production, has barely begun in the realm of industrial distribution.

There, perhaps, is where the big fortunes will be made in coming years, and where the big captains of industry—really captains of commerce—will arise.

Some wants to know why Henry Ford doesn't start making airplanes, and we hasten to suggest that perhaps a Ford car would fly if it was given a pair of Lincoln fenders and the fan was placed in front of the radiator.

The Germans would use their money now for wallpaper if they had anything to buy paste with.

STANDARDIZED BILLS

The first bills of the federal treasury's new standardized currency are now going into circulation. The purpose is to make bills of the same denomination look as much alike as possible, although there will still be three or four different kinds of paper money. Bills of different denominations will be made as unlike as possible.

Once the public becomes accustomed to this change it will no doubt be found very satisfactory. It increases the difficulty of raising a one-dollar bill to a ten, or a two to a twenty. The standardization has been undertaken for the express purpose of baffling counterfeiters, not only by making their practices harder, but by making it easier for money clerks and tellers to recognize a genuine or a counterfeit bill.

Some of the first men and women to receive these new bills were afraid of them, believing them not to be genuine. But it is said that they will soon be in general circulation, so that recipients of bills have only to study them a little to become familiar with them.

Now comes the glad holiday season, and after that, the income tax blanks.

SINCERITY OF AUTHORS

Fannie Hurst, short story writer and author of one of the season's prominent novels, intimates that sincerity is the chief quality that makes for the success of an author's work.

"The successful writer is almost never aware of his limitations." His own belief in his work puts it across, is the conclusion she has drawn.

This may explain why some pretty poor stuff is found almost any year among the best sellers. Such books do not last very many years, but they hold a large public for a brief time.

Miss Hurst's theory does not explain, however, why a good book sometimes takes so long to achieve its permanent niche of honor and fame. Surely the writer of the better work is no less sincere than his contemporaries who have big limitations but are not aware of them. Too many best sellers are obviously made to sell.

Washington, listening in on the rest of the country, often mistakes static noises for popular mandates.

RUBBER STREETS

One of the big rubber companies in Akron, Ohio, is having a strip of rubber paving laid near its factory. It is an experiment, in which the city is cooperating. The rubber is in the form of blocks, said to be noiseless. If the experiment is successful, there will be an effort to persuade the city to use rubber instead of asphalt or wooden paving blocks.

It would be strangely appropriate if the "rubber city", which makes automobile tires for the world, were paved with rubber. If it were, there would be thousands of people from other cities moving to Akron in quest of quiet. Other cities might have to adopt the silent paving in self-defense. The idea sounds fantastic but it may have a future in real economics.

Land Must Be Kept Producing

Kansas City Star

A phase of the testimony brought out at the interstate commerce hearing on grain rates that should cause reflection in American minds was that introduced by Dr. H. J. Waters, editor of the Weekly Kansas City Star, who warned the commissioners of the effects produced by the growth of urban centers at the expense of the country's agricultural lands.

This is a tendency inseparable from agricultural depression such as has been caused by falling farm prices and relatively high freight rates. Farm production must be kept up and it can only be kept up by making farming profitable. When the farmer sees no profit at the end of the year, or meets a loss, he is drawn away from the land by the high wages the city offers. But the overpopulation of cities, when it results from a depopulation of the land, can have but one result. It lessens the food supply, which means increasing living costs, a condition that in the end results in the worst economic situation possible to imagine.

The checking of this tendency toward the overpopulation of cities ought to be the concern of every agency seeking to maintain the proper balances in the country's economic structure. If disproportionate freight rates on the products of the farm are an element in the present unfavorable condition of that industry, those rates ought to be readjusted. The city should not live at the expense of the farm. It is doing that when, as Dr. Waters pointed out, city wage earners are buying the most expensive cuts of meat, while the farmer is skipping. If the farmer continues to come to the city to share in its prosperity, as he sees it, nobody eventually will have any meat at all.

The prosperity of the railroads is essential to the prosperity of the country, but it ought to be realized that this prosperity cannot be at the expense of a class of producers whose prosperity is just as essential. The land must be occupied, production must go on with increasing output, but to assure this result farm products must command prices that will keep farms in cultivation.

British and U. S. Spelling

Riverside Press

A rather complicated inquiry into the spelling habits of American and British boys and girls has just been reported in the London Teachers' World. A list had been compiled of the 50 words most often misspelled by Americans in compositions written by 2,414 candidates for college entrance during seven years. The British educational journal then decided to try out the same words on pupils in the United Kingdom.

Unfortunately for the enlightenment of a waiting world, the persons in the United States whose spelling was so tabulated were all high school graduates 17 and 18 years old, while the young Britishers were elementary school pupils between the ages of 10 and 13 years.

Any casually interested person not on the inside of the educational world would expect differences in spelling between two such groups even if they were all of one nationality. It does not seem surprising that the younger children misspelled more of the long words, while the older pupils misspelled generally with a fine disregard of the word's length.

It is interesting, however, to note that the word most commonly misspelled by the American would-be college entrants was the simple word "too." This word ranked forty-third in the British frequency list. "Together," fourth on the American list, was forty-ninth on the British list.

The investigating educators have concluded that British and American pupils misspelled different words. It is a tremendously vital discovery, perhaps, though no one has yet explained its importance.

Should Be Open Primary

Fresno Republican

The Republican is in favor of the instruction of the delegates from California to the Republican national convention in favor of Hiram W. Johnson.

We think he should be elected President of the United States, in 1924.

But we recognize that there are many who think otherwise, and that some of these are Republican party voters.

The citizens should have an opportunity to express their opinion, and to win the party verdict, if that is the decision of the Republicans of California.

Calvin Coolidge is and should be a candidate for the Republican nomination. The very position he occupies makes him a candidate, unless he declares to the contrary.

It is true that some who are against Mr. Johnson will support Mr. Coolidge as a mere convenience—anything to beat Johnson. But Mr. Coolidge's rights as a candidate cannot be limited by that fact.

We do not believe in frivolous candidacies. But the candidacy of Mr. Coolidge is not frivolous. It has a right to be expressed in the activities preceding the California presidential primary next May. An opportunity should be given them for every man in the Republican party who prefers one candidate to another to say so.

And then the Republicans of California should instruct their delegates to Cleveland to cast their vote for Hiram W. Johnson as long as he is a candidate.

Devise to Prevent Collisions

Long Beach Press

Greater and greater is the measure of safety to be had in travel on steam and electric railroads. There has been very gratifying advancement, in the last few years, in safety appliances which really are meritorious. The number of rail collisions is small now, compared with a few years ago. The number of fatalities in railroading steadily grows less.

An important advance in railroad safety seems to have been made by the Rock Island railroad. This big system has installed on its lines, from Chicago to Rock Island, a new safety device which will stop automatically a speeding train, against which a block has been set, even though the engineer may not be in the cab. Railroad experts claim that this Regan device makes the operation of trains 100 per cent safe from collisions.

Progress toward safety in transportation is an evolution to be welcomed. Railroading, once quite hazardous both for employees and for those who travel by rail, has been rendered so safe that loss of life is much smaller than formerly, even though the number of persons employed in railroading and the number of passengers carried show enormous increase.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M. D.

SWOLLEN JOINTS You have seen people afflicted with this condition and have perhaps wondered what was the cause of it.

Investigators are of the opinion now that it is caused by first a predisposition to it, to which is added some other definite thing. This may simply be cold or exposure.

It may also be due to some poison from a bad tooth, or tonsil, or other part of the body.

Or it may be due to the way the food is digested in the intestine. And so now physicians when called upon to treat swollen joints—rheumatism as it is called—first begin to look for some definite point where the trouble may have started.

The teeth are examined, likewise the throat, and also the little caverns or sinuses that lead from the nose.

If nothing can be found they go into the matter of the diet and restrict the amount of sugar taken by the patient.

That is sugar in form of starch vegetables. Now all this is very interesting and is of course the proper method of going about things, but there is just one great big thing to remember. When the patient is sufficiently over the attack to undergo it, every means is taken to get things moving well again. What do I mean?

Why he is encouraged to move about, to carry himself in an erect position, to have his intestines moving regularly and often also to take injections.

Besides this the joints are heated in ovens for varying periods. He is subjected to hot and cold showers. He is made to perspire freely. He is gradually allowed to take plenty of nourishing food.

Now why all this?

Simply because these physicians are anxious to have all his wastes thrown out.

He is encouraged to take exercise to improve his carriage or posture, as it is recognized that a sagging, drooping body slows up or actually causes slow movement, almost stoppage, of the intestinal contents. So you see to prevent a further attack he is encouraged to develop heart, lungs, and muscles, so that he can take care of all food going in, and throw out all the waste.

Just a sort of stimulus is given him to use his body.

Goats Is Goats

After Sixty Years

Detroit Free Press

Standing on the field of Gettysburg, while the greatness of the saving deed performed there by the soldiers of the republic was still fresh in the minds of a grateful people, Abraham Lincoln said: "The world will little note, nor long remember what we say here; while it can never forget what they did here."

President Lincoln was only half right. The words he spoke sixty years ago today have not been forgotten. On the contrary, they have become more and more precious to the nation from year to year. The brief utterance, delivered with a sense of personal failure to measure up to a high occasion, has become one of the unobscure addresses of American history.

What Abraham Lincoln said at Gettysburg has not overshadowed the thing the men in blue did at Gettysburg; but the words of a great President have given the deed a singularly vivid immortality.

The Gettysburg speech has crystallized into an eternally echoing declaration the horizon filling thought that the dead must not be permitted "to have died in vain," that the nation must maintain "its new birth of freedom" and that "government of the people, by the people and for the people shall not be permitted to perish from the earth."

After sixty years the dedication of America to the cause of liberty made by "Father Abraham" stands beside the fundamental law of the nation in sacredness and binding force.

Worth While Verse

HYMN OF THE EARTH

My highway is unfeated air,
My consorts are the sleepless Stars.
And men my giant arms unbear,
My arms unstained and free from scars.

I rest forever on my way,
Rolling around the happy Sun;
My children love the sunny day,
But noon and night to me are one.

My heart has pulses like their own,
I am their Mother, and my veins,
Though built of the enduring stone,
Thrill as do theirs with godlike pains.

The forests and the mountains high,
The foaming ocean and the springs,
The plains—O pleasant Company,
My voice through all your anthems rings!

Ye are so cheerful in your minds,
Content to smile, content to share;
My being in your chorus finds
The echo of the spherical air.

No leaf may fall, no pebble roll,
No drop of water lose the road;
The issues of the general Soul
Are mirrored in its round abode.

—By William Ellery Channing.

Time to Smile

HIS FILING INFORMATION

The eccentric motorist had violated about three rules in as many minutes, endangering the lives and property of as many citizens, and had utterly ignored the street intersection signals.

So the officer stepped up beside him and told him to wait a bit. "What do you mean halting me?" demanded the driver indignantly.

"I am an expert licensed driver. What I know about driving would fill a large book."

"Yes," said the policeman, "and what you don't know would fill two hospitals and a fair-sized cemetery. Name, please?"

SERVICE

A yokel in a Western town wanted to mail a letter. So he broke open a fire alarm box, pulled the lever and shoved his letter in.

"Five minutes later, surrounded by excited firemen, he was full of praise for the service."

"I wanted to get my letter on its way," he said, "but, shucks, I didn't think you'd send 'em null postoffice after it so darned quick."

—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

ONE EXPERIENCE ENOUGH

"Why don't you advertise?"

Town Storekeeper: "No siree. I did once and it pretty near ruined me."

"How was that?"

"Why, people came in and bought durn near all the stuff I had!"—St. Louise Globe-Democrat.

WHAT?

Perhaps it is the holly, perhaps it is the tree
Which all the happy children dance around with glee;
Perhaps it is the Yule-log, perhaps the mistletoe
That, hanging in the doorway, makes red cheeks, redder grow.

Perhaps it is the giving, perhaps it is the gift
That comes to me from you, dear, that makes my spirits lift.
Perhaps it is the carols, perhaps the Christmas song
That sets my heart a-beating the whole day long.

Perhaps it is the chimney, perhaps it is the candle light
That helps to make the beauty of every Christmas night.
Perhaps
